

Eye poppers

Los Angeles-based artist Kathryn Andrews explores the visual contradictions between pop art and minimalism with her first solo exhibition in Asia.

Katie Hung

Friday, August 24, 2018

Los Angeles-based artist Kathryn Andrews explores the visual contradictions between pop art and minimalism with her first solo exhibition in Asia.

The exhibition will feature her new series of sculptures created from aluminum and stainless steel. She has depicted some commonplace objects from pop culture.

When: from September 14 to October 26

Where: Simon Lee Gallery, The Pedder Building, Central